Re: reissue application 09/686,200

Examiner,

- i) Please review the preliminary amendment to see why the changes to the specification were not entered. The amendment looks proper.
- ii) The error set forth in the declaration does not really match the actions taken to correct the error. The new claims are directed to different inventions (i.e. method claims). Carefully review the prosecution history of the patent file to ensure that no recapture is taking place.
